Hello Mr. whatever,

My name is [REDACTED] I was in your 3 pm Chemistry 101 lecture. I am writing you this email to request you to round my grade as I am just 1% short of getting a C and that

As a follow up: I responded to the student explaining how I calculated grade cutoffs and as a PS noted that they should proofread e-mails before sending them. They gave a very sincere response. Always advocate for students, even when they make dumb mistakes!
